Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 3724

DETAILED ACTION

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 9/17/02 has been entered.

This action replaces the action of Dec. 3, 2002. A shortened statutory period of three months from the date of this letter for applicant to be responsive has been set.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Roberts et al.

The rationale of paragraph 3 of the Office action of 1/24/02 is incorporated herein by reference.

Conclusion

The remarks have been considered but are not convincing. It is felt that the claims fail to define over the art of record as set forth earlier. Further a sheet of glass would appear to be a thin sheet as set forth in the claims. The drawings will be considered by the Draftsman in due course.

The declarations under 37 CFR 1.132 have been considered. The paper of March 14, 2002 has been considered. The commercial viability of the glass cutter of Roberts et al. was questioned. The relevance of this question is unclear however. Is applicant attempting to imply that his device has shown commercial success? If so such evidence has not been set forth. The declaration of Sept 17, 2002 has been considered. Applicant states that his cutter discs last longer than "commercial" discs. The implication is that the design of the edge is the reason. It is noted that the material of the various discs would also be important to the wear properties. The material was not mentioned. The declarations are thus not convincing.

All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
